This, the 1st edition, contains on p. 537, act no. 530, which was known as "The Yazoo fraud act". Because of the insertion of this act, although the act rescinding the above act was also printed (p. 577-585, act no. 641) the compilation was refused official approval, by the governor of the state, and the original record of act no. 530 was directed to be burned by act of the General assembly, February 13, 1796. When this 1st edition was revised and printed in Philadelphia, by R. Aitkin in 1801, the Yazoo fraud act was omitted.

Organized in 1860 as the Evangelical Lutheran synod of Georgia and adjacent states. It joined the General synod, participated in 1862 in the organization of the General synod of the Confederate States of America, withdrew from the parent synod in 1865, joined the United synod, South, in 1886, and the United Lutheran church in America in 1918. In 1929 pastors and congregations in Florida were detached to form the Florida synod of the United Lutheran church in America. As the synod's territory now embraced only the states of Georgia and Alabama, it changed its name to Georgia-Alabama synod of the United Lutheran church in America.

Georgian revel-ations! or, "The most accomplished gentleman's" midnight visit below stairs! A poem. Reprinted from a clever suppressed work, entitled "Pindaric odes and tales," by Peter Pindar, esq., the younger [pseud.]—London, 1821. With twenty suppressed stanzas of "Don Juan," in reference to Ireland, with Byron's own curious historical notes. The whole written in double rhymes, on the model of Casti's stanzas, an Italian author from whom Byron is said to have plagiarized many of his beauties.—From a manuscript in the xii, 305 p., 1 l. illus. 21cm.

Gerard, John, 1545–1612.

Leaves from Gerard's Herball, arranged for garden lovers by Marcus Woodward; with 130 illustrations after the original woodcuts. Boston and New York, Houghton Mifflin company, 1931.

Based upon the edition of 1633, edited by Thomas Johnson. "By compressing the text and omitting Johnson's comments and all cross headings, it has been found possible not only to preserve all the most characteristic passages ... but to add several chapters ... Then the entire book has been rearranged so as to form as it were a garden almanac."—Prefatory note.

Observations on the Justificative memorial of the court of London. Paris. Printed by the royal authority. Philadelphia, Printed by F. Bailey, in Market-street. M.DCC.LXXXI.
120 p. 19½ x 14^cm.
A translation of a pamphlet published anonymously, Paris, 1780, under title, "Observations sur le Mémoire justificatif de la cour de Londres". The "Mémoire justificatif" referred to was written by Edward Gibbon, at the instigation of the British government, as a reply to the French "Exposé des motifs de la conduite du roi de France, relativement à l'Angleterre". The three pamphlets relate to the conduct of France in assisting the Americans in their struggle for independence.

German Congregational seminary, Crete, Neb.

Opened 1878; incorporated 1882 as German Congregational theological seminary. In 1884 the trustees accepted the proposal of the Chicago theological seminary that young men after completing their course in Crete should take their theological course in Chicago; the word theological was unofficially dropped from the corporate name, and it became a preparatory school. The school was removed to Wilton Junction, Ia., in 1894; to Redfield, S. D., in 1904, where it was combined with Redfield college. In 1916 the German institute of Chicago theological seminary was removed to Redfield, and is now conducted as the theological department of Redfield college.

Germany. Reichsarbeitsministerium.

Established as the Reichsarbeitsamt through an order of the Reichskanzler, October 26, 1918. After the proclamation of the new ministry to the Nationalversammlung on February 13, 1919, the Reichsarbeitsamt was designated as the Reichsarbeitsministerium. This change in name and function was confirmed by Law no. 6771 of March 21, 1919, concerning the creation and designation of the ministries.

Germany. Reichsfinanzministerium.

Established as the Reichsschatzamt by Law no. 1318 of July 14, 1879, which enlarged the duties of a section in the Reichskanzleramt. After the presentation of the new ministry to the Nationalversammlung on February 13, 1919, the Reichsschatzamt was designated as the Reichsfinanzministerium. This change in name and function was confirmed by Law no. 6771 of March 21, 1919, concerning the creation and designation of the ministries. The duties of this ministry are specified in Law no. 7043 of September 10, 1919.

Germany. Reichsjustizministerium.
The Reichsjustizamt was established in execution of paragraph 146 of Law no. 1162 of January 27, 1877, the duties in part having been entrusted to a section in the Reichskanzleramt, 1878-1877.
After the proclamation of the new ministry to the National-versammlung on February 13, 1919, the Reichsjustizamt was designated as the Reichsjustizministerium. This change in name was confirmed by Law no. 6771 of March 21, 1919, concerning the creation and designation of the ministries.

Germany. Reichspostministerium.
Established under the Reichskanzler in 1871. Designated as the Generalpostamt in 1873. Became the Reichspostamt in 1880. After the presentation of the new ministry to the National-versammlung on February 13, 1919, the Reichspostamt was designated as the Reichspostministerium. This change in name and function was confirmed by Law no. 6771 of March 21, 1919, concerning the creation and designation of the ministries.

Germany. Reichsverkehrsministerium.

Established by decree of June 21, 1919; confirmed by Law no. 7220 of January 5, 1920. In accordance with an agreement with Prussia and the other German states, the federal government, through the Reichsverkehrsministerium, assumed control of the government railways of these states on April 1, 1920. Through an emergency decree of February 13, 1924, the state railways were organized as an independent corporation, the Deutsche reichsbahn; later called the Deutsche reichsbahngesellschaft.

Through the same ministry the federal government assumed control over the inland waterways on April 1, 1921, superseding the various state authorities.

First represented in the presentation of the new ministry to the National-versammlung on February 13, 1919. This organization of the Reichswehrministerium was confirmed by Law no. 6755 of March 6, 1919, on the temporary regulation of the national militia and by Law no. 6771 of March 21, 1919, concerning the creation and designation of the ministries. The Reichswehrministerium under the constitution of 1919 absorbed the war ministries of Prussia, Bavaria, Saxony and Württemberg, and under Law no. 6771 was also vested with control over the navy. Organized in two divisions: a. Heeresleitung, and b. Marineleitung.
